Dear Friends,

I love Fall. I love watching the leaves change to red, orange and yellow. I love driving by the lake each morning with the mist rising and the sun shining on the trees. It is magnificent and reminds me daily of God's great gifts to us – to all of us. That scene evokes praise for my Maker and thanksgiving for the reminders of God's generosity to us in creation, in beautiful moments, in life itself.

Indeed we worship and follow a Generous God. From the abundant gift of creation to manna in the wilderness, to hope in exile, to the gift of the incarnation itself, God is generous to us and all creation. The world and all that is in it belongs to God, says the psalmist and God graciously shares the world and all that is in it with us. As we give thanks in this month and season, we reflect on the goodness and blessings we have. We think more often this time of year about how much we do in fact have and offer gratitude to God. All that we have comes from God – there is no question about it.

So what do we do in the face of such amazing generosity – how do we respond to the gifts we are given? In answering that question, it serves us well to reflect on the meaning of generosity. Many of us may think simply about money – generous people are those who give of their financial resources. That is true and certainly a component of generosity. But it is more than that as well. Being generous is not just something we do it is something we are – a way of life. Being generous is a recognition that we have all that we need for the life abundant and we can do nothing but share our gifts – be they gifts of money, of time, of talents, of attitude and spirit.

Indeed I have experienced great generosity from people who on the face had nothing. I took several groups to the border between Mexico and Texas to build cinder block houses for people who were living in cardboard and aluminum shacks. The Mexican folks knew how to mix mortar, how much to load on the tool and then put on the block. They knew how to measure for the window and the door. They knew how to install the rebar and even how to put that together. We knew practically nothing. And I quickly realized that though they could not build their houses without our money, they certainly could have built them more efficiently and more securely if they could have done it without us. Yet we would not have been changed nearly as much if we had not been there working across language barriers and skill barriers to help them build their houses. Those people had a generosity of spirit that was amazing and infectious.

Bethel Presbyterian Church too has a generous spirit. We recognize that we are able to do far more through God than we could ever imagine. As a whole, we know that being generous requires all of us: our time, talent and treasure. May we continue to cultivate and nurture a spirit of generosity among all of us so that we may continue to faithfully go where God leads and truly make a difference in our community and around the world.

Grace and peace, Wendy

Alternative Giving

Alternative Christmas Market

Sunday, Nov 11 from 12:15 -3pm
in the Fellowship Hall

The Alternative Christmas Market, is back. If you have forgotten what makes it alternative, well, the alternative piece is that all of the items for sale at this Christmas Market will be fairly traded, The coffee is grown and processed by a cooperative of farmers and marketed through churches, including the Presbyterian Church (USA) Coffee project. The olive wood handicrafts are made by Palestinian artists who are paid a fair wage for their product and marketed through PalCraft Aid, an organization of Christians dedicated to helping artisans make a living wage. So, the alternative piece is that everything for sale is made by a person who is paid fairly and given a stake in the business.

We have the opportunity at this market to buy beautiful and tasty Christmas gifts for our friends and family and to do so knowing that our purchases are contributing to a just and sustainable future for the artisans and farmers who made/grew the products. As Christians, we are called to seek justice for all people. Using our purchasing power at Christmas is a great way to do so - and it is a great opportunity to share the good news with others that we can buy fairly traded items and make the world a better place.

There will be something for everyone at this market so invite your friends and bring your checkbooks!

Last Call for Coat Donations!

The Roane County High School DECA Club is collecting coats of any size for the homeless served through the Knoxville Area Rescue Ministries (KARM). During the month of October, please bring in your extra coat, sweater, or jacket to the church office. Please include a note indicating that they are a donation for the DECA club. Our DECA Club contact is Julie Coen at 376-9033.

Christmas Food Baskets

Each Christmas our congregation gives Christmas Baskets to families in the community who are in need. We provide 50 baskets at a cost of about $3000. This program is funded by your generous donations. Just write Xmas Baskets in the check memo area or on the outside of an envelope and drop in the collection plate.

We also support the Angel Tree program where you can be "Santa" for a child who otherwise would receive no gifts. The tree will go up in the Gathering Area on Nov. 4 and all gifts need to be brought to the church by Nov. 25. The baskets and gifts will be distributed on Sun. Dec. 2 at The Hanging of the Greens celebration here at Bethel.

These gifts give "food for the soul"- the hope of a brighter future and the reassurance that someone does indeed care about them.

Community Forum

The Roane State and Bethel University 2+2 Education program will host a Holocaust Forum on Thursday, November 1 at 4:30 pm at the RSCC Harriman Campus in room O-202.

The forum will include two speakers:

Ron Sternfels, RSCC Professor of Chemistry, will discuss his parents' escape from Nazi Germany. Sternfels' father escaped in 1933 at the establishment of the German fascist state, while his mother left through Italy in 1940 after the war began.

Arthur Pais was born in 1927 in Ukmerge, Lithuania. He and his family were forced to live in the Kovno Ghetto before deportation to Dachau in 1945. Pais endured the forced marching of Dachau victims in the face of the Russian invasion of Germany in February, 1945. Pais is participating in partnership with the Tennessee Holocaust Commission, which is located on the Vanderbilt University campus. The event is free and open to the public.

Goodie Bags

We have been asked to help provide goodie bags for some of the inmates at the Morgan County Regional Facility this Christmas. For some of these men, this will be the only Christmas gifts that they receive. If you can provide any of the following items, please bring them to church before December 2nd. We will assemble them into goodie bags during the Hanging of the Greens on that day.

- Individually-wrapped candy
- Postage stamps
- Bar of soap
- Disposable razors
- Alcohol-free deodorant
- Toothpaste
- Toothbrush

Christmas cards and envelopes
We will provide a receptacle in the gathering area for your donations.
Thanks!

Fellowship

The Fellowship Team congratulates Hayden and Jessica Jacks as well as Grandparents Steve and Amber and Uncle Jeremiah and welcomes their baby, Samuel Eli, to the Bethel family. To help Hayden and Jessica celebrate their new arrival, we would like to show how we might "wrap" little Samuel Eli in our Christian love by a gift of diapers. Mom and baby prefer the Huggies brand of diapers and would be pleased with an assortment of sizes that may be used as he grows in size as our love for him grows within our hearts. Bethel members and friends may participate in the collection of diapers, baby wipes, and other toiletries for baby by bringing any of these items to the Bethel office until November 18. Thank you for contributing to the growth of our children within the embrace of our Father. The November Fellowship Supper has been re-scheduled for Wednesday, November 14, at 6:30 so not to conflict with family Thanksgiving activities. The Fellowship Team will meet at 5:30, prior to the meal.

Faith Team News

Something exciting happened just this week!

After learning that Chris was retiring from bells, Jackie Brandau stepped forward and volunteered to be Bethel's bell choir director. We are so happy that this musical ministry will be continuing. The first practice is November 28 at 6:00 pm. Experience and musical ability is not necessary. Jackie will teach you all you need to know. Just bring a willing spirit as Bethel starts a new bell chapter.

Generosity

If you missed the Generosity Retreat, you missed a wonderful experience. A big thank you to Jeff Paris and his wonderful and insightful leadership of the retreat. A discussion of the concept of abundance opened the retreat. God's message is that He will bless us and give us what we need so that we may be a blessing to others. We are blessed so that we may be a blessing. We are the ones missing out when we shun the concept of stewardship. Biblical passages looking into generosity were I Corinthians: 12 and 13 and the story of Dorcas in Acts 9:36-42. Discussion followed of how we live our faith in the community. Generosity is not just something we do - it is something we are.

Also, a big thanks to Carol Brown who provided fruit for breakfast, to Roger Richmond for his amazing French toast, to Frank Harris for doing the Buddy's Barbeque run and to all the others who provided snacks and food.

Property Team

Property team is looking forward to a quiet November after a busy October. Most of us were involved in several different ways with the Fall Festival either in preparation, operation or clean up. It is a cold and rainy Sunday afternoon and I have been thinking maybe the Team has finished one of its many tasks for the year. The Team's efforts to keep the grounds mowed and trimmed has been ongoing over the summer and perhaps Fall has truly arrived and another task has been marked off the to-do list. Thanks for being there!!

If you are in the church area week days between 9:30 and 11:30 you may meet Connie Guinn and several of her students from Roane County High School who are participating in a Work Based Learning program at Bethel. These young people will be helping in clean up, and other chores as needed during the course of the school year. Be sure to say hello!

Anticipating...

In a few short weeks we will enter into the season of Advent - the time when we prepare our hearts and minds for the arrival of God in our midst. Please plan now to join us on December 2, the first Sunday of Advent, as we begin our season of anticipation. We begin the day in worship, with the lighting of the first candle on the advent wreath. In the afternoon beginning at 3:00, we'll distribute Christmas baskets and gifts to folks in our community, and everyone is invited take part in the annual Hanging of the Greens. We'll spend time decorating the church, of course, and we'll also have craft activities that will help us to focus on this preparation for the coming of Christ. We'll follow up with a simple meal of soup and sandwiches, and end the day in worship. Please mark your calendars now and plan to join us on this most meaningful of days.

cards and Letters

Dear Bethel Friends,

Thank you so much for the beautiful plate which is such a nice reminder of my days at Bethel. Every time I look at it a lot of warm, pleasant memories come back. We are still 3 generations living together until next week? Each week for a while now we have been thinking my daughter and family (which includes two cats in addition to two toddlers) would be able to move back home but renovating is really difficult to predict a time limit. So many workers are involved. It has definitely kept me busy and from getting lonely. Snow is in the forecast so glad I am in this lovely setting and only have to get out if it is a must.

I think of my Bethel family often and really enjoy the emails which keep me up-to-date.

Much love,
Marilyn Gaffin

Friends,

We would like to thank you for your generous donations to the Harvest Festival this year. The items you brought for the Market Place, the Plant Sale and the Bake Sale provided a wonderful array of choices!!

Your willingness to assist in so many ways made our efforts in mission a tremendous success. Every year it just keeps getting better!!

Blessings,
Nancy King, Joan Davis, and Virginia Fowler
